

EXERCISE

Je sais raconter l'histoire de Thanksgiving :

Tick the correct answer:

The story started in  sixteen twenty  nineteen sixty.

For religious reasons, they wanted their own church, some  French  English people decided to leave their country.

The people who left England were called the  Pilgrims  Native Americans.

They crossed the  Pacific  Atlantic Ocean on a boat called the  Lusitania  Mayflower.

It was very  easy  difficult for them on the new continent.

The weather was very  hot  cold and they got very sick and died but the Indians  helped  killed them.

In  autumn  winter 1621 their first harvest was very  good  bad ; so to thank God and the Indians, there was a  big  small dinner.

This was the  first  third Thanksgiving in the American history !

Je sais utiliser les verbes au prétérit pour raconter des évènements historiques

Complete with BE in the past:

It was in Plymouth, Massachusetts that the story started in 1620.

The pilgrims were English. Their ship was called the Mayflower.

Their lives were very hard on the new continent ; the weather was very cold and the Pilgrims were hungry.

Fortunately there were Indians who helped them to survive and thanks to them their first corn harvest (= récolte) was good.

The Pilgrims were happy and in autumn 1621 there was a big celebration to thank God and the Native Americans.

Complete with the correct verb in the past:

In 1620, some people wanted their own church. James III refused, So they sailed from Plymouth in the South of England on a ship, the Mayflower.

They came to America in a place they called Plymouth.

The first winter was very cold and many Pilgrims got sick and died

During the spring, two Native Americans visited the Pilgrims. They were very friendly and they helped the Pilgrims and showed them how to plant corn.

In spring 1621, the harvest was excellent and they had plenty of food. So to thank the Indians and God, the Pilgrims made a big meal.

help

be x3

show

sail

come

call get refuse

visit

die

make want

-ED

-à apprendre