Material:

- 12 natural-place-cards (green)
- 12 work of art-cards (blue)
- 16 building and monument-cards (yellow)
- 8 jokers (red)
- 12 question cards (4 green, 4 blue and 4 yellow cards)
- A bag of colorful beans

Instructions

1) Decide which image is the risky card (a risky card is any card the players choose before starting the game).
2) Put the 6 sets of cards face down on the table: the scenery, the work of art, the building and monument cards, and the 3 matching color sets of question cards.
3) Put the beans near the cards and give 5 of them to each player or team.

Number of players: 6 teams of 2 or 3 players

4) The youngest player starts the game turning over the first card of each set of question cards, so everybody can see them.
5) The first player chooses a card from the set of images he prefers and answers the question.
6) If the player answers correctly, he gets the number of beans marked on the question card. And the player on his left continues the game.
7) If the answer is incorrect, the player loses 1 bean, and then it is the next player’s turn.
8) When somebody draws the “risky card”, he loses 3 beans and, if the answer is incorrect, he loses 2 more beans (a total of 5).
9) When somebody draws a joker, he wins 1 bean but he has to answer the question he gets.
10) When this round is over (all the players have answered the first question from each set), the players shuffle each set of image cards and choose another risky card. The second youngest player turns over the next question cards and starts the round.
11) The game is over when all the questions have been answered (after four rounds), and the winner is the player who gets the highest number of beans.
